January 2010

CONGRATULATIONS!!!!

And a sad farewell. Clyde Watson, one of our trusty, "go to" men has decided to retire! He has been at Pacific Isle for about 12 years. Before Pacific Isle, he worked as a diesel mechanic for 28 years in Oelwein, Iowa (Northwestern Railroad). He and his wife have 9 children and 18 grandchildren between them. As a hobby, Clyde enjoys woodworking. We will miss Clyde and all the different talents he brings to Pacific Isle. He does most of our painting, electrical work and welding, not to mention he is the person responsible for making sure we always have hot water (he flushes our boilers a couple of times a week). And he has been our after hours person for the last several years—many times fixing plumbing problems in the middle of the night while the rest of us peacefully slept. He will truly be missed. Please join us in the office this Friday (January 29, 2010) from 4:00 to 6:00 to say goodbye, sign a card and have some coffee and cake.
